

SHORT FOOTBALL SQUADS ARRIVE TODAY PRIMED FOR BIG GAME SPORTS

SPIDERS SHOW PLENTY OF "PEP" IN PRACTICE

Coach Dobson Sends the Regulars Through Long, Driving Work-Out on Westhampton Field.

ANOTHER SESSION TO-MORROW

Squad Will Keep in Form for Most Important Game on the Schedule. Student Body Standing Nobly by the Footballers.

With plenty of life—in keeping with the sharp weather—the Spider football squad ran through a long, driving practice yesterday afternoon at the Westhampton field. The practice was especially trying, in view of the fact that Thanksgiving Day comes right in the middle of it. To-day they will hold their regular practice on the stadium field and will probably indulge in a heavy scrimmage.

Thanksgiving Day, Coach Dobson is not willing for him to team to be located in the city for the work, when every day is now so important. So the Spiders will hold a long practice and workout in the morning. They will probably have another scrimmage at that time. Friday afternoon the team will hold its last practice of the year, and there is a plan on foot for the students to show how spirited they are in their support of the team that will take place that afternoon. The students will gather en masse and march out to the field at 4 o'clock and cheer and sing as the team is completing its final drill.

Besides losing the services of "Mac" Cosby, the hard-working fast little player who did so much last Saturday against the Yellow Jackets football team, the Spiders are now looking as though Richmond College will have to start the battle Saturday against the Yellow Jackets minus the presence of Captain Ancarrow, who has been nursing a very bad charley horse for the past week or so.

He received this injury in one of the scrimmages last week, and has been undergoing treatment for it ever since, and is not expected to be back for some time. This fact will not discourage the Spiders at all. Ancarrow is a brilliant player, and his presence or absence makes a big difference in the play of the team. But the Spiders are a team that has proved their worth, and who will take care of the position, if need be, with credit to the team and themselves.

The Spiders and the Yellow Jackets, so far as the records go, may be said to be about equal, and in the Intercollegiate League they enjoy the same standing, each having three victories and two defeats on the record. True, the Yellow Jackets defeated William and Mary by almost twice the score which the Spiders ran up against the luckless ones from Williamsburg, but the Yellow Jacket has had their best team in the game, whereas the Spiders had almost a second backfield against the William and Mary crowd last Saturday.

In comparing the strength of the teams, it is seen that the Yellow Jackets' line is slightly larger, but this advantage is compensated for by the fact that the Spiders' backfield is probably the heavier by a slight margin. The average weight of the two teams is about the same, and in age, etc., the two aggregations seem to have no decided advantage one way or the other.

There is much certain about the Spiders. Not a man in college fails to realize the heavy responsibility that is resting upon both the teams and the student body in the coming contest.

Every one knows that the game is bound to be a battle from the first minute until the last, and the firm determination of every player to fight with all the strength and spirit that he can muster until they win that game. And the resolve is gaining strength every day on the Spider campus, viz.: "We are going to win that game—no matter how hard Randolph-Macon fights, we are going to fight them just a little bit harder—and never let up until we do win."

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA'S FINAL PRACTICE SECRET

First-String Men Put Through Extensive Signal Drill on Lambeth Field by Quarter Back Gooch.

PLAYERS WILL BE NUMBERED

Same Squad of Nineteen That Battled Against Vanderbilt Will Be Seen in Action—Plenty of "Pep" Displayed by Team.

Names and Numbers of Virginia Players

1. Gooch. 10. Gillette. 2. May. 11. White. 3. Evans. 12. Berkeley. 4. Moore. 13. Burnett. 5. Coleman. 14. Anderson, G. 6. Sparr. 15. Walker. 7. Marker. 16. Calhoun. 8. Ward. 17. St. Level. 9. Anderson, E. 18. Flanagan.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., November 24.—Virginia's football squad of nineteen, the same players taken to battle Vanderbilt, was put through an extensive signal drill this afternoon, their final appearance of the season on Lambeth Field. The practice was secret, of course, and Quarter Back Gooch's voiding as he called the signals.

The first-string men were put through an extensive signal drill, covering every play the Varsity has as yet received. There was a thorough rehearsal of all plays that will be used against Carolina, and the sequence of the physical condition of the men was very gratifying to the coaches. The tendency of staleness, which has been a cause for worry last week, has been in measure overcome, judging from the speed displayed.

Each player was given a number to-day. On the back of each player's jersey there has been sewed a number. Each player will have a number. The numbers on the players' backs. There is nothing intricate in the numbering of the team. It is a simple matter. Each player will have a number. The numbers on the players' backs. There is nothing intricate in the numbering of the team. It is a simple matter.

The nineteen players who will leave here in a special train for the trip to Roanoke are Captain Mayer, Sparr, Word, Gooch, White, Ward, Coleman, Evans, Marker, Gillette, Anderson, St. Level, Berkeley, Burnett, Calhoun, Stillwell, and Anderson. The members of the scrub team will receive round-trip tickets to Richmond tomorrow afternoon for the service in giving the varsity practice.

A football game was held in Cabell Hall to-night, when speeches were made by Dr. Albert Lefevre, of the faculty, and by the players. The game was a success, and the players showed a marked improvement in their play.
